Western Drive Fails, Says German Despatch

ARMY ORDER SAID TO HAVE BEEN ISSUED BY GEN. JOFFRE
SAID TROOPS WERE TO CUT WAY THROUGH GERMAN LINES TO OPEN FIELD—INSTEAD, FRENCH AND BRITISH LOST TREMENDOUSLY AND TRENCHES NOW BEING RECOVERED BY TEUTONS, DESPATCHES ASSERT

Official German cablegrams received late yesterday afternoon and today not only give evidence that the Allies have been thwarted in carrying through their great drive on the western front, but bring the first details of the plan of campaign mapped out by Gen. Joffre and Gen. Sir John French, the French and British commanders.

Late yesterday afternoon a long official cablegram was received which quotes an army order attributed to Joffre, said to have fallen into German hands. According to this order, tremendous preparations had been made for the western drive and the soldiers of the Allies had been instructed to cut their way to the third defense line of the Germans.

The cablegram says:
"German army headquarters reports that an army order by Gen. Joffre, the French commander, before beginning the great attack on the west front, on September 14, has been found. This order instructs how the French officers were to explain the coming attack to the soldiers. They were told to explain that the intention was to drive the Germans from French soil, which also would influence the nations still neutral to enter the war with the Entente Powers."

"Gen. Joffre then tells about exceptionally favorable conditions for attack, the territorials to be used in the trenches, thus leaving free the younger soldiers for the attack. The landing of English troops had enabled the chief commander to hold ready several armies for attack. The number of machine guns had been doubled and the heavy artillery replaced by new guns. The amount of ammunition available was unprecedented."

"The moment was favorable, the order went on, because Kitchener's whole army was now landed in France and the Germans had withdrawn troops for the Russian attack."

"The attack, the order continued, was to proceed on every large front and consist of several combined attacks. When the German line is shaken another formation was to follow and break through the second and third lines until they reached the open field, and the cavalry was ordered to participate."

LIEUTENANT AT SCHOFIELD DIES BY HIS OWN HAND

Carl E. Fosnes Sits Up in Bed and Sends Entire Charge of Shotgun Into Region of His Heart, Dying Instantly

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Oct. 6.—After spending yesterday afternoon playing tennis, dancing all evening at the 1st Infantry hop, and bidding his friends a cheerful good-night, 2nd Lieut. Carl E. Fosnes, 1st Infantry, went to his quarters here, and this morning at 10 minutes after midnight took his own life.

The report of a gun caused friends to break into the quarters of the young officer. They found the body of Lieut. Fosnes in his bed, half propped to a sitting position. He had managed to fire a shotgun aimed at his breast and the entire charge entered in the region of the heart. Death was instantaneous.

Lieut. Fosnes, who was only 23 years of age, was graduated from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point with the class of 1914, and had been stationed on Oahu for one year. His entire period of active service had been with the 1st Infantry. He was unmarried, but relatives at Montevideo, Minnesota, have been notified of his tragic death.

Funeral services for the young officer were held at the noon hour today, after which the remains were sent to Honolulu on the 12:40 train. The body will be embalmed and sent to his former home at Montevideo.

Chaplain William Aiken officiated at the services, and Mrs. Aiken sang "Lead Kindly Light." Honorary pallbearers, all lieutenants of his company, were Virgil V. Enyart, Irving Phillipson, E. F. Rice, William McCulloch, John Hinemom and Otis Sadtler. The active pallbearers were non-commissioned officers of Lieut. Fosnes' company.

No motive for the suicide has yet been made public, though it is known that the dead young officer left a letter, the contents of which have not been given out. His mother died four months ago and he has been brooding to some extent since the news reached him.

Lieut. Fosnes was a capable young officer, popular with both officers and men of the regiment, as was evidenced by the wealth of flowers at the funeral services this morning.

Says Retention Would Cover Period of Several Years—Announcement is Formally Made

The Star-Bulletin this afternoon received from its Washington correspondent the following cablegram:

"WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 6.—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo formally announces that he will recommend the retention of the existing duties on sugar until normal conditions are restored. He said this retention of duty would cover a period of several years."

The news was received with deepest interest by leading sugar men whom the Star-Bulletin was able to reach for a statement in the short time before the paper went to press.

J. M. Dowsett, president of the sugar planters, said: "That's certainly good news if it's true."

W. O. Smith, secretary of the planters' association, said that the news was reassuring. "We have had nothing yet but may receive something later today," he said.

Retention of the present duty will mean a preferential of about $20 per ton for Hawaiian sugar over the Cuban product, Cuba being the principal competitor of these islands.

Prior to the enactment of the present tariff law the duty on Cuban sugar was 1.348, or $26.96 per ton. The present Cuban duty is 1.0048, or $20.096 per ton. Normally the tariff on foreign sugars now stands at 1.36, but very little is imported at that figure, and Hawaiian prices are always figured as against the duty of 1.0048 on the Cuban product.

Apparently no word of the momentous decision of the Secretary of the Treasury reached Honolulu this afternoon except the cable to the Star-Bulletin.

Sugar stocks, the best barometer of sugar news, were absolutely quiet this afternoon, following a dragging session of change this morning, when only one sale was made.

"Stocks?" said one broker. "No, there's no movement in stocks, and that's rather surprising, for the feeling of pessimism of last spring has gradually given away to a feeling of hope, almost of assurance, in fact, that Congress would have to retain the sugar duty. But no one is buying."

CREAM VENDORS WARNED NOT TO OFFEND AGAIN

Suspended Sentences of Thirteen Months for Purveyors of Stuff Weak in Butter Fat

As a test case for the 30 sellers of ice cream which had less than the required legal amount of butter fat in it, S. Watanabe, a Japanese woman, appeared before Judge Monsarrat this morning and pleaded not guilty to the charge preferred.

Attorney W. T. Rawlins appeared as counsel for the defense and commenced to fight the case from the ground up, but the testimony as to the actual nature of the ice cream sold was too strong a point to be downed. The woman claimed, however, that she had bought the ice cream from the Dairymen's Association and thought that she was protected by that fact. Judge Monsarrat sentenced her to a suspended sentence of 13 months and gave the same sentence to the other 29 who were concerned in the matter.

"The matter has not dropped here," said Attorney Charles Chillingworth this afternoon, "for I intend to push it as far as possible and place the guilt where it belongs, for I think that there is guilt somewhere and the public must be protected from a repetition of this business. If there is any guilt in the conduct of the Dairymen's Association we shall have it out in court and see that they are punished for it!"

Former Judge Frank Andrade appeared for the Dairymen's Association in court this morning and stated that his clients wished to have the entire matter aired thoroughly in court as they are convinced of their innocence of any offense against the law and wish to have the status of the case fixed once and for all.

HOOGS BOARDS MATSONIA; WIFE COMES WITH HIM

Will Be Taken Into Custody on Arrival Here Next Tuesday Morning, Says Brown

An Associated Press despatch to the Star-Bulletin today announced that Frank Hoogs, former teller of the Bank of Hawaii, this morning voluntarily boarded the steamer Matsonia in San Francisco to return to Honolulu to face an indictment charging him with having embezzled funds of the Bank of Hawaii in the sum of $1000. The despatch says that Mrs. Hoogs sailed with her husband.

Late yesterday afternoon City Attorney A. M. Brown received a cablegram from Pinkerton detectives in San Francisco to the effect that Hoogs would not fight extradition and would sail in the Matsonia this morning.

City Attorney Brown said today that immediately upon Hoogs' arrival he will be taken into custody by an officer and probably arraigned before Circuit Judge Ashford at 9 o'clock on the morning of his arrival, Tuesday next week.

Hoogs was arrested by Pinkerton detectives at his home in Napa, California, yesterday morning. The detectives acted on cable instructions from City Attorney Brown. The indictment against Hoogs was returned by the territorial grand jury following a special session on Monday afternoon. The indictment was placed on secret file but following the announcement received by City Attorney Brown that the defendant had been arrested, it was placed on the open file.
